2. Enrolment

During the enrolment process, participants will undergo an induction which will take them through the information in this Participant Handbook.

Among other things the following information will be detailed throughout this process:

- Fees and charges
- Refunds
- Complaints and Appeals
- Attendance and participant in training
- Requirements for training and assessment

Participants will be requested to sign the acknowledgement at the end of the induction to confirm they have read and understood the Participant Handbook. If at any time the handbook has been misplaced, they can access an electronic copy on our website.

The enrolment process is a very simple and non-invasive. Participants will be required to complete:

- An enrolment form
- A language, literacy, and numeracy assessment to identify any learning needs or potential barriers to learning. The assessment is conducted to identify any gaps in reading, writing, comprehension and mathematical abilities. This information will assist AADA College to adjust the way in which we train or identify strategies to provide support through the training in which the participant is enrolled.

The enrolment with AADA College does not include traineeship applicable documents that are required to be lodged with the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training. This process will be conducted with the Participant, their employer, and an Australian Apprentices Service Network provider (AASN).

Unique Student Identifier

All participants studying nationally recognised training in Australia from 1st January 2015, will be required to have a Unique Student Identifier (USI). The USI links to an account that contains the participants training records and results (transcripts) that they have completed from 1st January 2015 onwards.

The USI will give you access to an online record of your nationally recognised training in the form of a USI Transcript. This can be used when applying for job, seeking a credit transfer, or demonstrating pre-requisites when undertaking further training.

AADA College is unable to issue a qualification or statement of attainment for participants who do not provide their USI.

If participants do not already have a USI, they will need to register for one, on the USI website (free of charge) <https://www.usi.gov.au>

Traineeships

Participants undertaking training through a Traineeship, will be required to have completed a Training contract process with their employer and an Australian Apprenticeship Service Network provider (AASN). This will determine the participants eligibility for funding under the User Choice Program.

- Training Plan

All Trainees will negotiate a training plan with an AADA College representative and their employer. All parties to the training plan discuss the qualification and what units of competency are contained within. During this process AADA College will explain the “core” units of competency (UoCs) which must be undertaken by the trainee however the “elective” Uoc’s may be selected based on the individual’s role and tasks undertaken on-site, providing they meet packaging rules of the intended qualification. AADA College has training and assessment strategies which have specified elective units of competency. However, if the trainee and or employer requests a different unit of competency be delivered, AADA College will accommodate this where possible.

When the units of competency have been decided upon, proposed training dates will be given, and all parties sign and date the training plan. If at any point in time there is a change to this plan (dates, electives units, etc) the training plan will be amended and resigned, dated, and sent to each relevant party. All parties to the training plan will receive a copy of the signed training plan within 14days of signing.

- Evidence Portfolio / Training Record Book

All trainees will be issued with a Evidence Portfolio/Training Record Book within two weeks of the training plan being signed. The Evidence Portfolio/Training Record Book is to allow the trainee to log the completion of workplace tasks on an ongoing basis. Along with the completion of workplace tasks the training record book must be verified by the trainee's employer to confirm that the trainee can perform the tasks to the standard expected in the workplace.

Trainees must ensure their Evidence Portfolio/Training Record Book is always up to date and provide access to it upon request of officers from AADA College and or the officers from the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training.

Changes to agreed service of Australian Academy of Dental Assisting:

Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will always endeavour to provide the service outlined in their enrolment to the best of our ability. However, at times, there are situations that are potentially out of our control or that prevent us from offering a training course in accordance with our delivery schedule. Where there are any changes to agreed services, AADA College will advise the participant, in writing as soon as possible.

Should Australian Academy of Dental Assisting make any changes that may significantly impact on the delivery of their training, including in relation to any new third party arrangements or a change in ownership or changes to existing third party arrangements, we will advise all learners as soon as practicable and with options open to the learners to continue, cancel or transfer their enrolment.

In the unlikely event that Australian Academy of Dental Assisting ceases to operate as a Supervising Registered Training Organisation (SRTO), we will advise all participants and their employers where applicable within 7 days of the decision being made. To ensure that all participants can continue their training program, Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will support all participants in transitioning to another suitably qualified and funded SRTO.

8. Training and Assessment

Australian Academy of Dental Assisting guarantees to provide the participant with the training necessary to complete their chosen qualification or short course. However, the participant's participation in the training is vital in making their experience with us a success and we cannot guarantee that they will complete their qualification or gain employment from the course.

If we are unable to provide the participant with training for any reason, we will work with another Supervising Registered Training Organisation (SRTO) to assist the participant to finalise their course. If this cannot be achieved, we are committed to our refund policy. A Statement of Attainment will also be provided for all successfully completed unit/s of competency to enable the participant to seek credit transfer with another provided.

Training

Online Training:

- Online training provides the flexibility for our participants to complete training in their own time. Online training consists of readings, research, and completion of activities to support the development of knowledge prior to undertaking formal assessment.
- Participants are supported by their trainers through ongoing contact via email and telephone at regular intervals.
- Where work placement forms part of the delivery of a qualification, our trainers conduct workplace visits to provide additional tuition and, for example, review the Evidence Portfolio/Training Record book (Trainees only)

Workplace Training:

- Where training is more applicable to be carried out on site, our trainers will be in contact with an employer and accommodate to this request.

Assessment

Assessments in the Vocational Education and Training sector consist of collecting evidence of the knowledge and skills development. Australian Academy of Dental Assisting uses a combination of methods to confirm competency, this includes a combination of written knowledge assessment and practical observation of skills.

Before any assessment is conducted, our trainers must be certain that the participant has acquired the knowledge and practiced the skills to an adequate level and that they are ready to be assessed.

Where the trainer determines that they are not yet ready to be assessed, the participant may be requested to undertake further training or be provided with one on one support to address the gaps in knowledge and skills.

Written (Formative) Knowledge Assessment: The participant is required to provide a written response to a range of questions or scenarios relating to acquired knowledge through their training. This will be in the form of short answer response activities and may include other questioning methods including multiple-choice.

Practical Tasks and Observations: Practical Observations may be undertaken in a simulated working environment or in the workplace of the participant. This is dependent on the strategies that AADA has developed for each qualification. In the workplace, the participant will be observed performing specific workplace tasks in their day-to-day work activities or, in consultation with their employer and their assessor, establish a simulated setting in the workplace to complete the task/s. The assessor will attend the workplace and observe the participant performing tasks relevant to the units of competency being assessed.

Evidence Portfolio/Training Record Book: The participant is required to record details of their work activity completed as part of their traineeship. Details or tasks are logged by the participant in the workplace while under the direction of a qualified supervisor. While this is not considered formal assessment, it is required to be maintained by all trainees and present to a field officer from the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training should they visit the trainee in the workplace. The Evidence Portfolio/Training Record Book is also used as employer verification of the tasks completed in the workplace to the standard that would normally be expected in the workplace.

Re-assessment: All participants undertaking training with AADA are provided with two additional opportunities to demonstrate their satisfactory performance in each assessment task (a total of three attempts).

Assessors will ensure that all participants are fully prepared to undertake either theory or practical assessment. This includes following the completion of gap training.

On conclusion of each assessment, participants are provided with feedback, whether assessed as satisfactory or not. If the participant has not completed the task to a satisfactory level, the trainer will discuss the gaps in knowledge and/or skills and additional training is scheduled/conducted as necessary.

Please note: Non-Funded Full Fee participants who require additional training and re-assessment after they have exhausted their three opportunities will be required to pay the full fee amount for additional training and re-assessment of the failed unit of competency.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In accordance with the requirements of the Standards for Supervising Registered Training Organisations 2015, Australian Academy of Dental Assisting provides the opportunity for participants to apply to have prior learning recognised toward a qualification in which they are enrolled.

At the time of enrolment, all participants are advised of their rights in relations to seeking recognition of prior learning. It is important if a learner believes that they are eligible for recognition that they make application as soon as possible following the completion of their enrolment.

For more information on pricing and fees associated with the Recognition of Prior Learning please visit our website.

Credit Transfer

Credit transfer is the recognition of learning achieved through formal education and training. Under the Standards for Supervising Registered Training Organisations 2015, SRTO's are required to recognise the qualifications and Statements of Attainment issued by other SRTO's.

Where the unit of competency completed previously by the participant is the same as the unit of competency they are enrolling into, Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will apply a credit transfer for that unit of competency. This can only be done, on receipt of receiving the Statement of Attainment or Statement of Results reflecting the unit has been deemed competency previously.

Where the unit of competency previously completed has been superseded, Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will undertake a mapping exercise to determine the extent to which the original unit of competency aligns to the destination unit of competency prior to awarding credit.

9. Learning Support

To maximise opportunity for participants/students to successfully complete their training, Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will identify the learning needs during the enrolment process to enable us to devise strategies to support learning throughout the course. This may include specialist literacy and numeracy assistance or simply making an adjustment to the way in which the training is delivered, Other opportunities to provide support include:

- One on one coaching and mentoring
- Additional tutorials, and / or
- Other mechanisms, such as assistance in using technology.

Where it is identified that specialist support that cannot be offered by Australian Academy of Dental Assisting is required, we will refer the participant to the relevant external source. However, this will be at the participant's own cost.

To support this approach Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will:

- Access a learner's language, literacy, and numeracy skills during their enrolment to ensure they have adequate skills to complete the training.
- Support learners during their study with training and assessment materials and strategies that are easily understood and suitable to the level of the workplace skills being delivered.
- Provide clear information to the participant about the details of the language, literacy, and numeracy assistance available.
- Refer participants to external language, literacy and numeracy support services that are beyond the support available within Australian Academy of Dental Assisting and where this level of support is assessed as necessary (eg SEE and ESL programs) and
- Negotiate an extension of time to complete training programs if necessary. In the case of traineeships, any extensions to the term of the training contract must be negotiated and approved by the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training. Participants are encouraged to contact the Australian Apprenticeship Support Network provider (AASN) for assistance.

10. Issuing Qualifications and Statements of Attainment

Australian Academy of Dental Assisting will issue all AQF certification documentation (Qualifications and Statements of Attainment) to a participant within 30 calendar days of the learner successfully completing all assessment requirements of the training product.

11. Learner Rights and Responsibilities
